

TEXAS A&M AGRI LIFE EXTENSION

Paper Clover Campaign begins April 28

Foundation repairs on Extension Office April 29

Family & Community Health Impacts for February, March, April, 2021 Johanna Hicks

- I. "A Fresh Start to a Healthier You" – seven participants in the February on-line course
- II. "Do Well, Be Well with Diabetes" – 7 Hopkins County participants for on-line series in partnership with Hopkins, Fannin, Titus, and Rockwall Counties (one California resident registered under Hopkins County) – 20 participants in all
- III. District 4-H Food Challenge – Hopkins County served as host county – 38 teams from the East Texas region participated
- IV. District 4-H Roundup, Farmersville – 3 Hopkins County youth participated: Rylie Carroll, Senior, received 1st place in Fashion Review, 1st place in Food Show, and 3rd place in Public Speaking. She will advance to State Roundup in June. Diego Childs, Intermediate, received 1st place in Poetry/Prose, and 7th place in Food Show Main Dish. Blaine Allen, Intermediate, placed 3rd in Food Show Side Dish.
- V. Adult Sewing Workshop: 5 participated in the 3-day workshop in late March. Four of the five were beginning sewers.
- VI. Notified of receiving the following awards, to be presented at the Texas Extension Association of Family Consumer Sciences conference in July: 1) School Wellness Award, 2) Excellence in Teamwork for 4-H Fashion & Interior Design project, 3) Innovative Youth Development Award for Skills Camp. These plus 3 additional awards have been forwarded for National judging, with notification in May.
- VII. Master Wellness Volunteers will be heading up a Walk Across Texas initiative starting in May, Extension exhibit for 55+ Health Fair in May, and assisting me with summer youth camp programs.
- VIII. Como-Pickton and Sulphur Springs School Health Advisory Committee meetings held in April.
- IX. Newsletters: 4-H Gazette, Volunteer Connection, and Better Living for Texans
- X. Janie Crump Memorial 4-H Scholarship: Jorja Bessonett and Savannah Allen. They were both invited for an interview in College Station for Texas 4-H Opportunities Scholarships on April 24 and will be notified in May.